Product Detail:

Product Description

Unlike the 3d cube mosaic tile, this stone mosaic tile series looks more novel. Its main module is composed of diamond-shaped particles of white marble, and then each side is surrounded by slender strips of gray marble to create a non-planar effect. If it is installed on the wall, it will be affected by its grain structure attracted, people never get tired of it. We use modern machines to make different granules, and then workers assemble different granules on the template on the workbench. Of course, each combination has a fixed template. After the combination is completed, a special quality inspector will check it. Make sure there are no errors.
