Product Detail:

Product Description

Marble is a natural material from the earth, not an inexhaustible thing. Every time a little is mined, there will be less. If there are fewer things, the value will increase. Rare things are more expensive. Although the price will be more expensive, each panel cannot be copied, so marble mosaics are still worth having. This product uses natural white marble of China origin, it is called Oriental White Marble, and the mosaic chips are processed into a hexagonal shape, while each side is inlaid with gold stainless steel. Every piece of the chip is pasted onto the fiber net with our worker's hand and fixed strongly to prevent chips drop.

Product Application

The marble hexagon mosaic is a classic mosaic pattern since many years ago. Since people want to find something different from the single mosaic material, they come out with many different ideas, marble, and glass, marble and metal, marble and shell, etc. While the brass inlay marble tile exists for the last two years. With golden metal attributing surrounding the marble hexagon, the whole tile looks shining.

This mosaic tile is widely used on the wall tile of the kitchen and bathroom backsplash, like decorative wall tile for kitchen, mosaic wall tiles for bathroom, and marble mosaic backsplash.
