Product Detail:

Product Description

Natural stone mosaic tile has a natural true stone texture, natural, simple, and elegant style, and is the highest-grade type in the mosaic family. According to different techniques, it can be divided into waterjet and regular geometric tiles. The specifications include square and strip, round, irregular planes, rough surfaces, etc. Using this material to decorate walls or floors retains not only the rusticity of natural stone itself but also enriches the patterns. This flower marble mosaic tile product adopts three different colors from natural marble and cuts small leaf shapes with a water jet machine, and then the chips are matched into flowers. The whole tile looks elegant and fresh, if you like flowers, this mosaic may meet your taste.
