Product Application

From ancient times to modern days, great buildings are made of natural stone, because beauty is an art from nature. Our stone mosaic is a product from nature, and it has a lot of applications not limited to the interior wall and floor, but to the exterior decorations such as garden terraces and swimming pools.

We have a strict selection standard for the particles before manufacture, that those which have cracks or black dots must not be reused, and we try our best to maintain the same color in one production batch.
